I would like to start with saying that my son Andrew, at the age of 4, loves to attend Learn and Play.

Andrew has been in the daily care of Mr. Scott at the Learn and Play since November 2009 and it is my intention that he will continue to attend there until he goes to Kindergarten.

The atmosphere at the centre is delightful, the color and happiness greets you at the door upon entering and carries throughout each room. I find that the play area and the classrooms besides its cleanliness is stimulating to various age groups and the toys, etc. are of a wide variety and in large they are geared towards the development and education of the children.

More important though than the room and the play stuff is how everyone at Learn and Play treats all the children like a family. For parents, this is very important because every time I leave my son, I know that he will be treated not just another kid but a member of their family. As working parents we sincerely appreciate the devotion that Mr. Scott has to teaching the children. Andrew learns so much at Learn and Play, over and above what he would learn instinctually on his own or in the care of someone less devoted to teaching.

I have spent time at the centre, as parents are always welcome to visit, and have witnessed the interaction between Mr. Scott and all the children. He encourages them in play, eating, potty training, listening, sharing, etc. and he rewards them generously with praise even though they do not always succeed greatly in their attempts.

As with most working parents we are busy and do not always have time to spare for chatting when dropping off and/or picking up Andrew from the centre. I find Learn and Play method of corresponding via a daily sheet report for each child absolutely brilliant in this respect as it ensures that we are up to date on Andrew's day, his learning and behavior.

Once again I would like to say that I sincerely appreciate Mr. Scott, Ms. Madhu, Ms. Maritza, Mr. Alex and the entire Faculty at Learn and Plays commitment to helping us "raise" our child.
